With the adoption of a global Code of Good Animal Feeding Practice by Codex, IFIF - in co-operation with FAO - reflects on a future focused on feed safety with an emphasis on GMPs, Codes of Practice & safe feed ingredients.

Dear Feed Industry Colleagues

The IFIF and FAO are delighted to invite you to an international conference on 'Integrating Livestock-Crop Systems to Meet the Challenges of Globalisation' jointly organized by the British Society of Animal Science (BSAS) and the Animal Husbandry Association of Thailand (AHAT).

It will be held in Khon Kaen, Thailand, between November 14-18, 2005 and will provide an opportunity for animal scientists and those from related disciplines - such as the feed industry - to discuss and debate research issues relating to livestock-crop systems of agriculture. A feature of this event will be the break-out session on Feed Safety which will cover the Codex Alimentarius's Code of Good Animal Feeding Practice. The conference proper will consider all animal species (non-ruminant and ruminant) and all production systems (commercial and village). It will include key-note and invited papers, field visits, trade exhibition and a full social programme.

We do hope that you will be able to attend what we hope and expect to be a useful and stimulating conference. We look forward to welcoming you to Khon Kaen in November 2005.
